

Solutions Economics' Leonardo Giacchino Recognized in 2014 Who's Who of Commercial Arbitration: Expert Witnesses

Bethesda, M.D., December 12, 2013— Solutions Economics LLC partner and founder Dr. Leonardo Giacchino has been included in the 2014 edition of The International Who's Who of Business Lawyers: Commercial Arbitration: Expert Witnesses. This will be his third consecutive year in the publication.

Who's Who Legal identified the one hundred and three leading expert witnesses in the field of commercial arbitration from across the world. Nominees have been selected based upon comprehensive, independent survey work with both general counsel and private practice lawyers worldwide. Only specialists who have met independent international research criteria are listed. These specialists were chosen on the basis of expertise in their field as well as skill in giving expert oral evidence in commercial arbitrations, encompassing examination in chief, cross-examination and witness conferencing.

Dr. Giacchino provides expertise in international arbitration, global investor services, and regulatory strategy for utilities to firms, investors, and governments in more than 30 countries. He has provided expert testimony before U.S. courts, international arbitration tribunals, and public utility commissions in numerous countries.

Solutions Economics is a consulting firm offering services for regulatory, litigation and business cases. We provide our clients with economic, financial and quantitative solutions through independent and objective expert testimony, reports and analyses. Our experts have testified in numerous forums and have worked on projects in more than thirty different countries. This vast global experience in regulated industries, competition policy and international arbitration allows us to provide companies, law firms, and government regulatory agencies with the precise solutions that they need. Solutions Economics is based in Bethesda, Maryland.